

NRC acquires Cleanline Waste Water Solutions

Description

Expanding NRC's broad suite of environmental, emergency response and industrial services

Great River, NY, 28th March, 2018 NRC announced today that it has acquired Cleanline Waste Water Solutions Ltd. This significantly adds to its UK footprint, and expands its full line of environmental, emergency response and industrial services.

About Cleanline

For over 14 years, Cleanline has been providing a range of innovative drainage and sewer services throughout the UK, including water jetting, vacuum removal, CCTV survey, drain relining and UV lining, patch lining, precision cutting, excavations and site maintenance and topographical surveys. Cleanline works for a wide variety of sectors including construction, highways, water, manufacturing, government and more. Based in the Liverpool area, Cleanline employs 50 personnel. It services over 200 clients, many of which are major blue-chip companies.

NRC provides a broad range of international services including industrial cleaning and maintenance, HAZMAT emergency response, oil spill cleanup, industrial firefighting and rescue, waste management, site remediation, abatement and decommissioning, equipment rental packages, and marine services. NRC is the largest commercial oil spill response organization (OSRO) with worldwide operations.

The acquisition of Cleanline complements our existing UK operations on a number of levels by enhancing our existing industrial service lines, broadening our client base and expanding our UK footprint, said NRC CEO Paul Taveira. Combined with our existing bases in Milton Keynes, Aberdeen and Inverness, the addition of Cleanline in the Liverpool area really strengthens our national capabilities and our geographic reach, better enabling us to service both existing and new clients throughout the UK, added Neil Challis, Senior VP, International.

Gary McDermott, Cleanline Managing Director commented, We are excited to join the NRC group which will allow us to expand both our geographic footprint and variety of industrial and emergency response services. We will continue to provide our clients with cost-effective solutions to a wide range of industrial and environmental concerns while growing our business using NRC's strong global presence.â?•
