NRC International Strengthens Management Team with Two New Appointments

Leading global provider of diversified environmental, industrial and emergency response solutions, NRC, has made two appointments to its Executive Management as the company targets strategic international growth.

NRC appoints Mark Kelly as Vice President of International Operations. Mark joined NRC International in 2015 as Operations Manager and was promoted to Vice President International Operations in July 2016. Bringing 25 years' industry experience, Mark has a vast understanding of the oil and gas sector and has previously held senior operational roles in the industry in the UK, Namibia and Angola.

Within his new role, Mark oversees all of NRC's international operations throughout Europe, the Middle East, Africa, the Caspian Region, and the Far East. Based at the company's hub in Aberdeenshire, Scotland, Mark manages the complete range of NRC's lines of business, including oil spill response, firefighting, emergency preparedness, industrial services as well as consultancy and training.

Evgeni Shevchenko joined NRC in April 2016 as the Vice President of International Business Development, Sales and Marketing. Evgeni is responsible for driving diversified growth opportunities across all company service lines as well as promoting new business opportunities with global leaders in the oil and gas, shipping, transportation, manufacturing and storage industries. Evgeni brings over 10 years' experience in various senior roles in industries including oil and gas, petrochemical, power, mining and metallurgy and project financing.

These appointments further contribute to NRC's operational excellence and global footprint as a diversified environmental, industrial and emergency response provider and further support the achievement of NRC's strategic growth targets internationally.

“It is great to have both Mark and Evgeni join the International team,” said Neil Challis, NRC Senior Vice President International. “Mark and Evgeni have great focus, expertise and experience in their respective fields and will help achieve our operational objectives to be the leading global provider of expert environmental, industrial and emergency response solutions.”

As the world's largest commercial Oil Spill Response Organization NRC is the foremost global provider of a full-spectrum of end-to-end environmental, industrial cleaning firefighting and emergency response services for the oil and gas, transportation, chemical, healthcare, industrial, and power industries and governmental organizations.

Through our international network of experienced experts and operating bases in 13 countries, NRC has a proven reputation for delivering cost-effective solutions for spill, hazmat, environmental, industrial, remediation, firefighting, rescue, consultancy and training, anywhere around the world, under the most difficult conditions, with the highest commitment to safety and compliance.
